

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Wow! Look at all the kitchen appliances!

Learning Outcome

Exchange advice and suggestions in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- How many different kitchen appliances do you use at home? A lot? A few? None?
- What kind of appliance would you like to own? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about cooking and social activities.
- I can talk about cause and effects and hypothetical situations.
- I can talk about future actions.

Let's Explore!

This cooker has three separate baskets!

* A "basket" is a small container with a handle.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Clerk: Can I help you, Miss?
- Vanessa: Thanks. We're just looking for now. If I'm buying a rice cooker, I'll have to look at the specifications. You can help, Sally.
- Sally: If you wanted a good one, why wouldn't you get it through the restaurant?
- Vanessa: If I got one there, it could cost hundreds of dollars. I won't pay that much.
- Sally: I'm going to start here.
- Vanessa: I'll start over there.
- Vanessa: What did you find?
- Sally: If you want one that turns off automatically, this one will.
- Vanessa: Hmm ...
- Sally: If you needed a digital one that also warmed food up, you should get this one.
- Vanessa: This cooker will turn on remotely if you program it.
- Sally: Are you going to use it a lot? Are you planning on cooking a lot of rice?
- Vanessa: I'm trying out different dishes this weekend, so I'll need to cook a few cups. Maybe 10.
- Sally: If you cook different types, this one has three separate baskets.
- Vanessa: That would be good if they were all the same size.
- Sally: Hmm ... Yes, they are.
- Vanessa: Wow. I see. You pour in the water, and cook up the rice. Nice!
- Sally: Then you dish should it out and ...
- Vanessa: Mix in some vegetables and fry it up.

Let's Practice!

Let's try a new recipe!

Instructions: Match the verbs from column A with their corresponding meaning in column B. Write sentences with the verbs in column A. Compare your sentences with your partner.

COLUMN A:

1. stop
2. warm up
3. pour in
4. Start
5. try out

COLUMN B:

- a. turn off
- b. make hotter
- c. add liquid
- d. turn on
- e. experiment

Let's Practice!

We have a variety of rice cookers for you!

Instructions: Choose the words from the word bank to correctly complete the sentences. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

Word Bank

will turn on / it could cost / if you want / wouldn't you get / you should get

1. If you wanted a good one, why _____ one through the restaurant?
2. If I got one there, _____ hundreds of dollars.
3. _____ one that turns off automatically, this one will.
4. If you needed a digital one that also warmed food up, _____ this one.
5. This cooker _____ remotely if you program it.

Extension Activity

Write up a dinner plan.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Decide what you want to have for dinner tonight and write up a list of food you need.
- Write sentences about making the dinner using phrasal verbs (turn on, cook up, mix in, etc.).
- Read your sentences to a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I talk about future action.

☐ ☐

I talk about making food using phrasal verbs.

☐ ☐

I share my dinner and how to make it with a partner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to warm up (verb): to make hotter
e.g. This one can warm up cold food too!
- to turn on (verb): to start
e.g. You turn on the cooker here.
- to turn off (verb): to stop e.g. It has an automatic turn off.
- remotely (adjective): from a distance
e.g. You can start the cooker remotely.
- to try out (verb): to experiment with something
e.g. I'm trying out different dishes this weekend.
- to pour in (verb): to put liquid into e.g. First, you pour in the water.
- specification (noun): a detailed description
e.g. I'll have to look at the specifications.
- to mix in (verb): to combine with other things
e.g. Mix in some vegetables.
- to fry up (verb): to cook with oil in a pan e.g. Fry up the potatoes in this pan.

Learning Points

Phrasal Verbs about Cooking

You can use phrasal verbs when you talk about cooking or when you are cooking. Phrasal verbs are informal verbs so they fit well into conversations about cooking and cooking activities.

When you add a particle (preposition) to a verb, it becomes a phrasal verb. The verb changes and has a different meaning.

Phrasal Verb Form:

verb + particle (preposition)

turn + off = stop the operation of warm + up = reheat; make hot again

Some phrasal verbs are separating. This means the verb and particle can stay together or they can be separated by a noun or pronoun.

When you use a noun it can go between the verb and particle, or after the verb and particle.

For example:

Let's warm up the leftovers.

Let's warm the leftovers up.

When you use a pronoun it can only go between the verb and particle.

For example:

Let's warm them up.

Examples:

- This digital one also warms food up.
- You pour in the water, and cook up the rice.
- Then you dish it out.
- Mix in some vegetables and fry it up.
- I'm trying out different dishes this weekend.
- There's a digital one that also warms food up.
- This cooker turns on remotely.
- This one turns off automatically.

Learning Points

The Future with Will, Going to, and the Present Continuous

You can use three different tenses to talk about the future.

When you talk about things that are not decided or when you make a decision at the moment of speaking for the future, you use the modal will.

When you ask about intentions, you use be going to.

When you talk about things that are arranged, on the agenda or booked for the future, you use the Present Continuous tense.

Example	Meaning
I'll start over there. I won't pay that much.	I decide now to start there. I decide now that I don't want to pay that much.
I'm going to start here. Are you going to use it a lot?	I intend to start here. Is it your intention to use it a lot?
I'm trying out different dishes this weekend. Are you cooking a lot of rice this weekend?	This is my plan for the weekend. Is this on your agenda for the weekend?

