

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

It's a great recipe!

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe events in the news in a range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What do you do for fun with classmates or work colleagues?
- How often do you go out for a meal with them? Where?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about social activities.
- I can use words like since, for and in to describe duration.
- I can talk about things I have done or have been doing.

Let's Explore!

Vanessa cooks for a living.

* When you cook "for a living", that is how you make your money.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: Hmm ... nice tea. I'm glad to sit. This store is huge. It seems like we've been in here for hours.
- Vanessa: Since I've started cooking for a living, I've been spending more and more time in specialty food emporiums.
- Sally: How long have you been into cooking?
- Vanessa: I've been taken with recipe books since I was a kid. I've been into cooking in a big way since I started college. Aunt Nelly has been encouraging me to follow this career path for years!
- Sally: I've always loved shopping. Shopping for food has been an eye-opener. It isn't as easy as it looks.
- Vanessa: I haven't had time to have people over in the past month. I've been itching to try some of these rice dishes for a bit now.
- Sally: It's been quite a while since we've done anything like this. Have you decided whether to invite Marleene?
- Vanessa: Maybe. I think a new perspective would help a bit. I haven't had an honest critique from an outsider in a while!
- Sally: I have been going out more lately. I've gone to the pub and bowling with my colleagues a few times. I haven't been having dinner out with them though. They eat in terrible places!

Let's Practice!

What have you been doing?

Instructions: Choose the words from the Word Bank to correctly complete the sentences.

Word Bank

've been into cooking / have loved / has been spend / has been encouraging / 've been spending / has always loved / 've been itching / 've been

1. It seems like we _____ in here for hours.
2. I _____ more and more time in specialty food emporiums.
3. I _____ in a big way since I started college.
4. Aunt Nelly _____ me to follow this career path for years!
5. Sally _____ shopping.
6. I've been into cooking in a big way _____.

Let's Practice!

See you in a while!

Instructions: Match and write the sentences from column B to complete column A.

COLUMN A

1. _____ cooking for a living, I've been spending more and more time in specialty food emporiums.
2. I haven't had time to have people over _____.
3. I've been taken with recipe books _____.
4. I've been itching to try some of these rice dishes _____.
5. I haven't had an honest critique from an outsider _____!
6. I've been into cooking in a big way _____.

COLUMN B

- a. since I've started
- b. since I started college
- c. in a while
- d. since I was a kid
- e. in the past month
- f. for a bit now

Extension Activity

Talk and write about your social life.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Talk about what you and your friends or family have been doing on weekends.
- Write a paragraph about who you've been going with.
- Say where you've been going.
- Has it cost you money to go there or has it been free?
- Read your paragraph aloud to a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I talk about what I've been doing on weekends.

☐ ☐

I write about activities I've been doing.

☐ ☐

I say who has been with me.

☐ ☐

I say whether it has cost money to do this.

☐ ☐

I share my paragraph with a partner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- specialty (adjective): for a particular taste
e.g. This shop sells specialty foods.
- emporium (noun): a store that sells special foods
e.g. This emporium imports greek food.
- eye-opener (noun): something that makes you see something in a different way
e.g. Shopping for food can be a real eye-opener!
- a bit (expression): a small amount of time
e.g. I've wanted to come here for a bit.
- to itch (expression): to want to do something very badly
e.g. I'm itching to try this new recipe.
- outsider (noun): someone not in the group
e.g. A compliment from an outsider is always nice.
- to critique (verb): to look at critically to assess good and bad points e.g. He always critiques the food when we eat in a restaurant.
- pub (noun): a British-style bar e.g. We had lunch in a British-style pub.
- to be taken with (verb): to admire
e.g. I have always been taken with recipe books.

Learning Points

Present Perfect Continuous vs. Present Perfect

You use the Present Perfect tense to talk about an unspecified time in the past that is related to now or continues up to now.

When you use the Present Perfect Continuous tense, the time when the action happened is also not important.

You can use the Present Perfect tense to talk about:

- experience up to the present
- change that has happened over time
- an event or action that happened in the past that is important now

Present Perfect tense: Statements, Questions and Negatives

Subject + have/had + past participle (statement)

Subject + have/had + not + past participle (negative)

How long + have/had + subject + past participle? (question)

You use the Present Perfect Continuous

- to emphasize that action has continued without stopping until now and may still be taking place
- when we can see the result of an action that happened in the recent past, now

Present Perfect Continuous tense: Statements, Questions and Negatives

Subject + have/had + past participle + -ing. (statement)

Subject + have/had + not + past participle + -ing. (negative)

How long + have/had + subject + past participle + -ing? (question)

Present Perfect tense	Present Perfect Continuous tense
It seems like we've waited for hours.	I've been spending more and more time in specialty food emporiums.
I haven't had time to have people over in the past month.	I haven't been having dinner out with them though.
How long have you waited?	How long have you been collecting recipes?

Learning Points

Since, For, and In* for Duration

When you use the Present Perfect tense and the Present Perfect Continuous tense, you often use phrases or clauses for duration.

These phrases or clauses begin with for, in or since. They tell you how long someone/something has done or has been doing an action.

You can use since to begin a phrase or a clause (as a connector or as a preposition).

You use for and in to begin a phrase (as a preposition).

Preposition	Example
for	for years! for a bit now for 400 years
since	since then
in	in the past month in a while!
Connector
since	since I was a kid since I started college

Examples:

- I've been collecting recipes since I was a kid.
- I've been into cooking in a big way since I started college.
- Aunt Nelly has been encouraging me to follow this career path for years!
- I haven't had an honest critique from an outsider in a while!

