

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Writing Spot: Come on over! The girls are cooking up a storm!

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe events in the news in a range of social and work contexts.

Can Do Statements

- I can write about social activities.
- I can write about future actions.
- I can write a short descriptive paragraph.

Ask your partner:

- Do you ever cook with friends? Who is the best cook?
- Describe a time that you cooked for a group of people. Was it a success?

Let's Explore!

Sally arrives at Vanessa's house for some cooking adventures. Let the cooking marathon begin.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: Hey, Sal. Need a hand with all those bags? They look heavy.
- Sally: Thanks, I think I've brought everything except the kitchen sink.
- Vanessa: Here, I'll grab your camera and purse.
- Sally: Thanks.
- Vanessa: Well, that will be my exercise for the week!
- Sally: I'm going to put these things straight into the fridge. They're perishable and the air-conditioning in my car wasn't working.
- Vanessa: Check out the pantry. I'm now putting everything into plastic containers.
- Sally: Impressive. You've cleaned too. The flowers are a nice touch.
- Vanessa: Well ... You said you were bringing your camera so ...
- Sally: Is this the processor from work? It looks dangerous.
- Vanessa: Only if you stick your finger inside it and turn it on ...
- Sally: I'm hoping that you have some mirin left. I forgot to grab some at the supermarket this morning.
- Vanessa: I spent half of my morning surfing the Internet. The other half was spent soaking up the sun on my patio.
- Sally: Anything interesting on the net?
- Vanessa: No, just a lot of cat videos. I'm going to turn on some tunes. I like listening to music when I'm in the kitchen.
- Sally: Now, I promised Marleene some photos, and possibly a slideshow of our cooking adventures.
- Vanessa: Shouldn't you be writing something too? You are a journalist, after all.
- Sally: Well ... maybe I'll include a little paragraph to accompany the photos ... if she's lucky.
- Vanessa: I love hanging out with you!

Let's Practice!

What are Sally and Vanessa planning to do?

Instructions: Choose the words from the word bank to correctly complete the sentences.

Word Bank:

going to turn - going to put - I'm hoping- I'll grab - would be - will include

1. I'm _____ on some tunes.
2. Maybe I _____ a little paragraph to accompany the photos.
3. _____ that you have some mirin left.
4. Here, _____ your camera and purse.
5. That _____ my exercise for the week!
6. I'm _____ these things straight into the fridge.

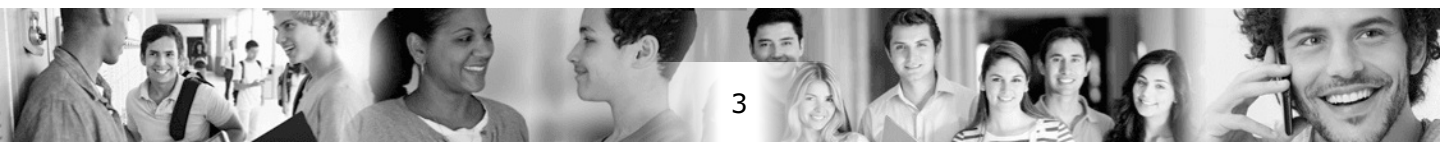

Let's Practice!

Which activity do the friends mention*?

* to talk or write about

Instructions: Proofread the sentences. Correct the mistakes. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. That woud be my exersise for the week.
2. I like listening at music while I am in the kittchen.
3. I spend halve of my mornings surfing the internet.
4. I forgot to grap some at the supermarquet this morning.
5. I love hamging outt with you.

Extension Activity

You are hosting a dinner party. Who do you plan to invite? What are you going to make?

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Plan and create a meal for a friend or family.
- Write a 100 word descriptive paragraph on the meal.
- Describe the atmosphere.
- How did the food look and smell?
- What did you talk about? Include any social activities that were mentioned.
- Describe how your guests responded to the meal. Did they enjoy it?
- Use rich adjectives to provide descriptions.
- Include simple, compound and complex sentences.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I plan and create a meal for a friend or family.

☐ ☐

I write a descriptive paragraph on a meal.

☐ ☐

I use adjectives to provide description.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- pantry (noun): a small room in a house in which food is stored
e.g. I store all my food in the pantry.
- everything except the kitchen sink (expression): almost anything a person can think of e.g. I brought everything except for the kitchen sink.
- perishable (adjective): not likely to stay fresh for a long time if not eaten or used e.g. The food in this bag is perishable.
- air-conditioning (noun): a system used for cooling and drying the air in a building or room e.g. The air-conditioning in my car wasn't working.
- to accompany (verb): to be included with something e.g. I'll include a little paragraph to accompany the photos.
- to soak up (verb): to enjoy feeling or experiencing something e.g. The other half was spent soaking up the sun on my patio.
- to surf (verb): to look or search for information using the Internet e.g. I spent half of my morning surfing the Internet.
- patio (noun): a flat area of ground, usually behind a house
e.g. Vanessa was soaking up the sun on her patio.

Learning Points

Describing Future Actions

Simple Future has two different forms in English: "will" and "be going to." You use the present continuous tense to talk about something planned.

FORM Will

You use will to suggest someone is going to do something voluntarily. It can also be used to make a prediction or promise.

[will + verb]

Example:

Sally will meet up with Vanessa later.

I'll call you when I get to the restaurant.

Peter will be the first person in line at the buffet.

FORM Be Going To

You use going to to express an intention.

[am / is / are + going to + verb]

Example:

Sally is going to meet up with her friends after work.

Leonard is going to be the next Vice-President.

When you talk about things that are arranged, on the agenda or booked for the future, you use the Present Continuous tense.

[am / is / are + present participle]

Example:

Are you thinking about having your friends over for dinner this week?

