

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

We do all the work!

Learning Outcome

Exchange advice and suggestions in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- How often do you have a large group of people over for a meal?
- Who does all of the preparation?
- When would you consider having a company bring meals to your home?

Can Do Statements

- I can describe how to prepare food.
- I can talk about cause and effects and hypothetical situations.
- I can talk about future action.

Let's Explore!

Kitchen Innovations, your cooking alternative.

* An "alternative" is a second possibility or choice.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Ma'am, how can we help you today? Are you having people over for dinner soon? Are you going to stand at the stove all day? Will the meal turn out just right?

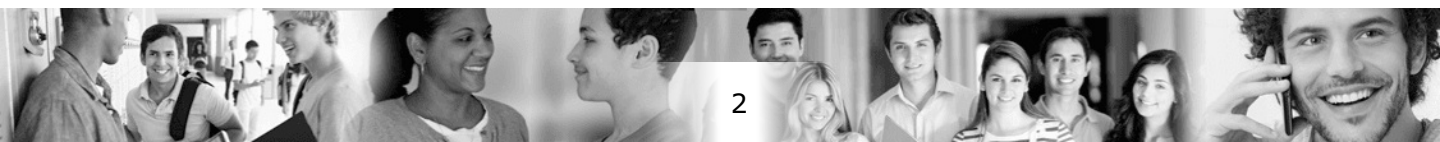

If you could have someone else do up your meal, would you be interested? If you had time to relax before the big night, you'd feel rested. If you come in, you can look over our services. If you ever thought you needed a cooking alternative, you should have a look.

We at Kitchen Innovations will take your cooking troubles away. If you engage us, you are tapping into a service that will make your life easier! Our friendly employees will be here to help you if you are ready. You're going to find them polite, courteous and helpful. Starting tomorrow, we're offering a discount, so don't hesitate.

We'll worry about rustling up your dinner. Enjoy your day while we're shopping for your food, chopping up your vegetables, mixing up your ingredients and doing your baking. Your dinner party is going to run smoothly.

No more overcooked vegetables or burnt meat! Just relax, dig in, eat up and drink up with your guests.

At Kitchen Innovations we have your meal in hand.

Let's Practice!

If you could ...

Instructions: Match the sentences from column A and column B. Read the sentences with your partner. Check each others pronunciation.

COLUMN A

1. If you engage us, you are tapping into a
2. Our friendly employees will be here to help you
3. If you come in you can
4. If you ever thought you needed a cooking alternative,
5. If you could have someone else do
6. If you had time to relax before the big night,

COLUMN B

- a. you should have a look.
- b. up your meal, would you be interested?
- c. if you are ready.
- d. you'd feel rested.
- e. service that will make your life easier!
- f. look over our services.

Let's Practice!

When are you having a dinner party?

Instructions: Organize the mystery sentence. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. . / polite / find / them / going / You're / to
2. discount / . / so / offering / a / hesitate / , / don't / We're
3. rustling/ worry / about / . / We'll / your / up / dinner
4. we're / shopping / Enjoy / for / food / day / your / your / while / .
5. Your / is / party / smoothly / . / dinner / to / run / going

Extension Activity

You are inviting a friend for dinner.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write an invitation to a friend for dinner.
- Say what you are going to make.
- Say who else is coming to dinner.
- Ask your friend if he or she will bring a dessert.
- Read your letter aloud to someone.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I write an invitation to a friend.

☐ ☐

I talk about future actions.

☐ ☐

I talk about cause and effect.

☐ ☐

I share the invitation with a partner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to do up (verb): to create; to package; to put together
e.g. You could have someone else do up your meal!
- innovation (noun): a new way to do something e.g. We at Kitchen Innovations will take your cooking troubles away.
- courteous (adjective): polite
e.g. Our staff is courteous and helpful.
- overcooked (adjective): cooked too much e.g. No more overcooked vegetables!
- to rustle up (verb): to prepare; to cook e.g. We'll worry about rustling up your dinner.
- burnt (adjective): cooked until it is black e.g. No more burnt meat!
- to dig in (verb): to start eating e.g. Just relax, dig in, eat up and drink up with your guests.
- to have in hand (verb): to be under control
e.g. At Kitchen Innovations we have your meal in hand.

Learning Points

The First Conditional vs. The Second Conditional

You use the first conditional to talk about real situations in the present or future.

You use the second conditional to talk about unreal or imaginary (hypothetical) situations in the future.

First conditional form:

If + Simple Present verb, + will

If you come over, I'll help you with that.

(you can come over)

Second conditional form:

If + Simple Past verb, + would

If you had time, I would help you with that.

(I don't think or I know you don't have time)

First Conditional (Cause and Effect)	Second Conditional (Hypothetical Situations)
If you come in, you can look over our services.	If you could have someone else do up your meal, would you be interested?
If you engage us, you are tapping into a service that will make your life easier!	If you had time to relax before the big night, you'd feel rested.
Our friendly employees will be here to help you if you are ready.	If you ever thought you needed a cooking alternative, you should have a look.
If you come in next week, you can take advantage of our sale.	If you wanted to plan a party today, we could help.
If you aren't satisfied, we'll give you a full refund.	If you wanted to talk to one of our satisfied customers, we could arrange that.

Remember to use a comma (,) after the IF clause.

In conversation, it is common to use contractions. (I would = I'd)

Learning Points

The Future With Will, Going to, the Present Continuous

You can use three different tenses to talk about the future.

When you talk about things that are not decided or when you make a decision at the moment of speaking for the future, you use the modal will.

When you ask about intentions, you use be going to.

When you talk about things that are arranged, on the agenda or booked for the future, you use the Present Continuous tense.

Will	Will the meal turn out just right?
Going to	Are you going to stand at the stove all day?
Present Continuous	Are you having people over for dinner soon?

Examples:

- We at Kitchen Innovations will take your cooking troubles away.
- When you engage us, you are tapping into a service that will make your life easier!
- Our friendly employees will be here to help you.
- You're going to find them polite, courteous and helpful.
- Starting next week, we're offering a discount so don't hesitate.

